PRESENTATION OF THE UNITED GREENLIVING ORGANIZATION

Around the world, millions of people live in precarious conditions, facing climate crises, natural disasters, and poverty. In response to these challenges, the United Greenliving Organisation works relentlessly to transform lives and restore hope. Based in France, our international non-profit organization is dedicated to addressing humanitarian crises through an innovative program, the **UGL Green Building Program****.

By aligning our efforts with the 17 UNESCO and United Nations Sustainable Development Goals set for the future, we are committed to providing vulnerable communities with eco-friendly and sustainable housing solutions.

Education, in particular, is one of the keys to combating poverty. The United Nations aims to ensure quality education for all by 2050. However, currently, approximately 90% of children in Sub-Saharan Africa, especially those in rural areas of Uganda, suffer from poor or nonexistent school buildings.

Our UGL Green Building program offers energy-autonomous bioclimatic constructions that meet the fundamental needs of communities in challenging areas. These innovative structures are not just shelters; they become centers of life: schools, clinics, dormitories, and more. With electricity production exceeding consumption, we even enable the distribution of electricity to surrounding areas, fostering sustainable and communal development.

More than just a response to housing needs, our philosophy is based on autonomy. We support each community throughout the process, from the initial study to the completion of the constructions, providing the necessary resources and expertise to ensure their long-term success.

Currently, we are conducting missions in the isolated islands of Lake Victoria in Uganda. There, schools are severely lacking in resources such as electricity, clean water, and adequate access to qualified teachers. Our first initiative, the UGL Green Building School, embodies our commitment to these challenges and paves the way for five additional electrification projects.

The United Greenliving Organization is determined to improve the quality of life for residents in crisis-affected areas. Through our sustainable and collaborative approach, we are not only building homes but also the dreams and hopes of communities.
